1518 None that I no of.
1519 I do not.
1520 I believe there was some bitterness toward her dad moving the family for a job he wanted when the rest of the family did not want to move. Yet Tori knew to follow Gods leading, even when it makes us sad or uncomfortable, is always best. I believe she has grown past this now.
1521 Her family doesn't live in a proper house. They live on farm land. She cares deeply about them. She may struggle with the purpose God has for her if her family struggles.
1524 Childhood may have been difficult? Her family is wonderful but they didn't have a home for the longest time. They camped on their probably while building a house. Summary: Please give your opinion of the applicant's all-around readiness for missionary service.

1518 This is her hearts desire to share Jesus with others. She has been talking about mission for awhile.

1519 Although Tori is still young in age and relatively young in life experience, she has the fortitude and perseverance for missionary service. I believe she would work best as part of a team with a common goal, although she is certainly capable of functioning in an autonomous role on that team.

1520 I have had the privilege of traveling with Tori on youth mission trips. She feels called to the mission field whether local or abroad. She desires to share the gospel with everyone and will do whatever is needed to share with some whether it be to attend a fancy event or muck stalls. She is always ready to jump in and help where needed.

1521 I'd say she's ready to go into missionary service. She'll have 2 years of bible training by the end of spring, and she is self-motivated. She generally doesn't make big decisions without praying and talking to mentors beforehand.

1522 She is absolutely sold out for the Lord and would sacrifice anything to please Him and do His will. She would devote every waking moment to her missionary work and would find so much joy in doing so.

1524 She has been ready for years. I am very excited to see where God leads her.

1526 She loves the LORD and wants to do His will. She has a strong faith and a desire to serve the LORD and minister to others
